Policy Title: Wireless Access Policy

Policy:

- The Kellogg Free Library (KFL) provides free broadband wireless Internet access 24 hours a day/7 days a week. This service is available throughout the entire building as well as on library grounds (e.g., parking lot, front steps, etc.).

Access:

- Anyone with a wireless capable device can connect to our open wireless by selecting "Library Public" as the wireless internet access.

Security and Limitations:

- The KFL wireless network is not secure. Simultaneously-connected devices are vulnerable to other users' viruses, malware, and hacks. Information sent over this network can be captured by anyone else with a wireless device and the appropriate software. Therefore, activity requiring transmission of credit card numbers, passwords, and other personal information should be avoided.
- Users are responsible for maintaining up-to-date antivirus software and firewalls on their devices.
- Library staff cannot assist in making changes to user's network settings or perform any troubleshooting on the user's own computer.

Printing:

- Library printers are not available to wireless users. You can save your work to a USB flash drive or email it to yourself, and then print from one of the library's public access computers.

Responsibilities:

- Wireless users agree to abide by the library's Computer Use and Internet Access Policy.
- Violation of federal, New York State or local laws, including but not limited to the transmission of pornography or harmful material, fraud, hacking, spamming, and illegal downloading of copyrighted material is prohibited.
- Usage is subject to monitoring by KFL staff to assure these rules are followed.
